Wonderful Review of 2015 International Conference on Future Healthcare and Economic Development in Southeast Asia Agu.25th to Agu.28th

Introduction

Global Academia-Industry Alliance (GAIA) is one of key plans promoted by Medical Device Innovation Center, Nation Cheng-Kung University. GAIA is an international innovation model, which provides a communication and cooperation platform for its academic and industrial members in Southeast Asia. The aims of GAIA are to (1) cultivate highly talented human resources through world-class research and implementation of high-level education, (2) cause impacts to economy and society by innovation and value creation, and (3) reach mutual compensation by integration technology, design, manufacturing, service, and market. The current GAIA members, including Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, India, Russia, Indonesia, Singapore, and Philippines, spread all over the world. We expect its members will increase more and more in the near future.
